Escola Slim Bench EB3.

This urban school created a Sustainable Outdoor Learning Area through a series of zones to support different activities and learning outcomes. The school and its P&C are driven to instill values of sustainable living and appreciation for nature and the environment in students.

A Garden Classroom features long tables and benches facing a chalkboard for more formal lessons, for students to sit together and engage with their teacher. A second bench underneath the board helps the smallest students to reach and contribute.

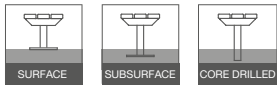

The classroom is set near a chicken coop and vegetable beds, which the students take turns to care for and harvest.

The Library Lawn is an uplifting and inclusive social space, with a curvy bench and artwork painted by students showing off their favourite books. It can be used as a place for quiet time, or for social functions such as hosting grandparents for morning tea.

The Secret Native Garden is a place to learn about local ecosystems, with a yarning circle to encourage discussion and sharing ideas.
