PLANNING INSTITUTE OF AUSTRALIA
AWARDS FOR PLANNING EXCELLENCE 2021

Co-designed with government and academic leaders.

ChillOUT Trees were originally prototyped as part of the Smart Cities and Suburbs program by the Australian Government. The collaboration with Georges River Council, UNSW and University of Sydney won a 2021 PIA National Award for Planning Excellence. Three prototypes in south-west Sydney, Australia – at a town centre, busy street, and local park – have been installed and tested since December 2019.

Approved by the community.

“As researchers, we enjoy working with industry on projects where our thinking and evidence is applied to enhance place, benefit the community and strengthen the relationship between them.”

“From a statistically valid and reliable survey conducted, 93% of ChillOUT Hub users would like to see more Hubs in their community, especially in parks, plazas and along streetscapes.”

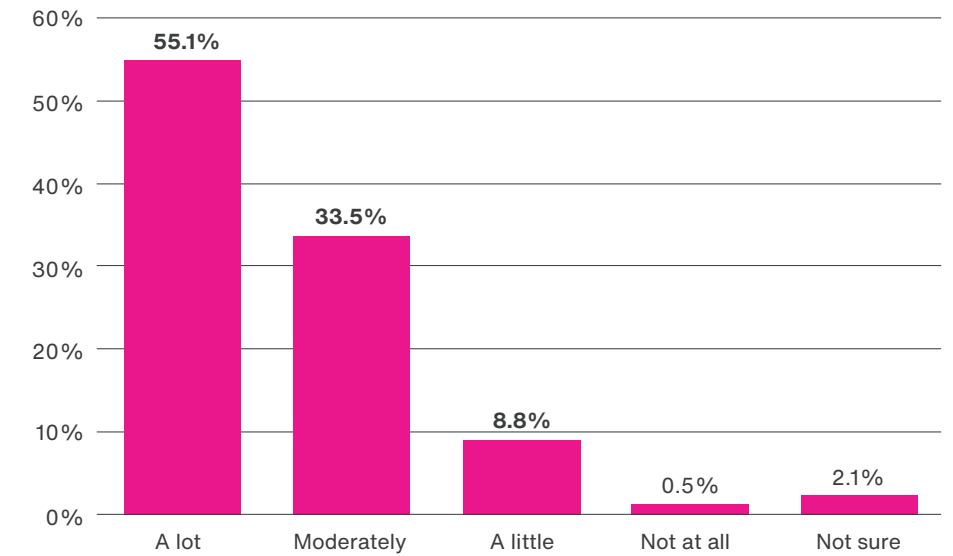

- Dr. Nancy Marshall
Associate Professor,
University of Sydney

A place to stop and take a break.
An oasis for busy streetscapes.
